We know what art can do, how it changes perspectives and even changes lives. Similarly, the PNC Foundation has always believed that engagement in the arts enriches lives and builds stronger, more vibrant communities. That's why PNC Arts Alive was created.

PNC Arts Alive challenges visual and performing arts organizations to put forth their best, most original thinking in expanding audience participation and engagement. This commitment advances our mission of community development.

Since PNC Arts Alive debuted in 2009, we have awarded approximately $13 million in grants to enterprising cultural organizations in Central Ohio, Philadelphia & Southern New Jersey and Greater St. Louis, through funding delivered by the PNC Foundation, which receives its principal funding from The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. We look forward to now also supporting the arts across Florida's east coast.

From classical music and film to dance and theater, we're committed to keeping the arts alive.
